Neuronal Gene Transcription and Local mRNA Translation in Health and Disease
The Brain Prize Webinar Series 2023/4
Online and free to attend | all seminars are from 4pm-6pm CET

Program and Speakers

1. The Brain Prize winner's webinar
   October 25th 2023
   Michael Greenberg (Harvard University, USA)
   Erin Schuman (Max Planck Institute for Brain Research, Germany)
   Christine Holt (University of Cambridge, UK)
   Register here:
   The Brain Prize winners webinar

2. mRNA transport, trafficking, localization
   November 29th 2023
   Rob Singer (Einstein Medical College, USA)
   Florence Besse (Institut de Biologie Valrose, France)
   Jennifer Lippincott-Schwartz (Janelia Farm Research Campus, USA)
   Register here:
   Brain Prize webinar: mRNA transport, trafficking and localization

3. Shaping connections through remote gene regulation.
   December 7th 2023
   Oscar Marin (King's College London, UK)
   Leslie Griffith (Brandeis University, USA)
   Kelsey Martin (Simons Foundation, USA)
   Register here:
   Brain Prize webinar: Shaping connections through remote gene regulation

4. Synapse-to-Nucleus Signaling
   January 16th 2024
   Mike Fainzilber (Weizmann Institute of Science, Israel)
   Yingxi Lin (UT Southwestern Dallas, USA)
   Richard Tsien (New York University, USA)
   Register here:
   Brain Prize webinar: Synapse-to-nucleus signaling

5. Dysfunctional translation in disease
   February 27th 2024
   Emily Osterweil (Harvard Medical School, USA)
   Gary Bassell (Emory University, USA)
   Giovanna Mallucci (Altos Labs, Cambridge UK)
   Register here:
   Brain Prize webinar: Dysfunctional translation in disease

6. Activity-Dependent Gene Regulation in Health and Disease
   March 27th 2024
   Elizabeth Pollina (Washington University, USA)
   Eric Nestler (Icahn School of Medicine Mount Sinai, USA)
   Michelle Monje (Stanford University, USA)
   Register here:
   Brain Prize webinar: Activity-dependent gene regulation in health and disease

Read more about The Brain Prize at www.lundbeckfonden.com/the-brain-prize