Join Us!

Join Mark Behlke, MD, PhD, Chief Scientific Officer at Integrated DNA Technologies (IDT), for an engaging lecture on how advances in genomics are transforming the development of personalized therapies.

The "Genomics Revolution" has opened the door to interrogating an individual's genetic material and using that information to create bespoke therapies to treat inherited and acquired diseases. We will review the key modalities of genetic medicines in practice today and explore ways these are being applied to treat nano-rare diseases.
